Whilst this list is small at the moment, 20+ orders a day will make this list tedious. Ideally a Order number search bar in this drop down list would be perfect, but not sure if its even possible.

As an example, if you select an order that has already been done, this print preview works, but as you can see in image 1, the print preview button is "greyed out". I need this to work for new ones as the guys on site will tire of closing it down and reopening it every time.
