

You are now ready to start entering the Mock results. These results will be carried forward to two other Forms, which we will discuss later.

When you click on a Subject and Class, you will be taken to the Form that contains all the relevant data for that Subject

If you see the student's name, but not the Subject it means that the student has not selected this subject, which is Art & Design. Press PgDn to continue scrolling through the class until you meet a student with the Subject name highlighted as seen in the second screenshot. Sorry about this being long-winded but I am working on this problem.

Not SELECTED no Subject

As most students will not choose more than eight subjects, you will meet every student in the class that you have chosen for data entry. To see the subjects that a particular student has not chosen you will see a blank Field for the Subject at the top of the Form as seen in the screenshot shown above. I am good but not that good. So my program has to live with the fact that you will have to scroll through the entire class before you come to a student who has chosen the subject. As I have said above, I am working on this problem and will update whenever it is solved. The program still works well, but professionally it's got to be better.
